Dear EIA Staff,

On behalf of Mary Wittenberg, Peter Ciaccia and all of us here at New York Road Runners (NYRR), I would like to express our sincerest appreciation for your support and the efforts of your entire team in helping us deliver a successful event this year.

The 43rd running of the ING New York City Marathon marked the comeback of NYC's beloved five-borough race after its cancellation last year in the wake of Superstorm Sandy, and it allowed us to pay tribute to those affected by both the storm and April's Boston Marathon bombings in the best way we could.

The marathon's return to the streets was greeted with joy by the 50,304 runners from around the world who safely crossed our finish line in beautiful Central Park, and by the throngs of spectators who lined the 26.2 miles across the city's streets. It was truly a magnificent day to be in New York City.

The collaboration with your teams allow us to produce an event of this magnitude and impact, and we are very grateful for our partnership with you.

Once again, thank you for all of your support.

Regards,

Stuart Weiss
